

NYC RESTAURANT OPENINGS

A Buzzy New Flushing Location for Xi'an Famous Foods — and More Openings

A weekly roundup of new restaurants in New York City

by Melissa McCart, Emma Orlow, and Luke Fortney | Updated Sep 29, 2022, 4:08pm EDT

If you buy something from an Eater link, Vox Media may earn a commission. See our ethics policy.

Prospect Lefferts Gardens: Sweet Catch BK, a new fast-casual South Carolina Lowcountry seafood spot has opened for dinner, from co-owner Ka-wana Jefferson and chef Bryan Lindsay. The restaurant serves dishes like its Sweet Catch boil, with lobster, crab, shrimp, corn, and potato with a side sauce. “Our menu is a celebration of Black food,” Jefferson says in a press release. “A menu that is distinctively African American — the celebration of our ingredients, our roots, and above all, our impact on the cuisine of the United States.” 1222 Nostrand Avenue, near Winthrop Street